PATINA MEADOW

Brooke Giannetti & Steve Giannetti • Written by Leila Giannetti • Photographs by Lisa Romerein

In the latest installment of the beloved Patina series, evocative new photography and deeply personal reflections capture the art of creating a life rooted in purpose and quiet elegance, where beauty is cultivated slowly, intentionally, and with soul. From the hum of daily life in the Shed to the serenity of the Forest, from the charm of the Cabin to the creative heart of a studio in the Carriage House, each chapter offers an intimate look at spaces designed not just to be seen, but to be lived in. The gardens flourish with inspiration, the Animal Barn brings warmth and rhythm, and every corner reflects a thoughtful balance between nature and home. The book is an invitation to slow down, notice beauty, and bring timeless, intentional design to your home.

STEVE GIANNETTI is an architect, and BROOKE GIANNETTI brings an interior designer's eye to their artfully designed houses. Together they have chronicled a decades-long journey of creative endeavors and nature-inspired living through Brooke's influential design blog Velvet & Linen, as well as their bestselling Patina book series. At Patina Meadow, the Giannettis raise animals, cultivate gardens, and continue to explore the intersection of design, land, and home.

The Giannettis are also co-founders of the Patina Home and Garden store in Leipers Fork, Tennessee. Their daughter, LEILA GIANNETTI, helped establish the store and now works alongside her parents at Patina Meadow. She is a potter, gardener, photographer, and writer who grew up immersed in the world of Patina style. The Giannettis live near Leipers Fork.

MIDCENTURY MODERN DESIGN FOR OUTDOOR LIVING

Jeffrey Head and Dan Chavkin • Forewords by Marilyn Cohen and Brad Dunning

Featuring new photography, archival material, and profiles of iconic designers from Brown Jordan and Walter Lamb to the Eameses and Vladimir Kagan, this history celebrates the designers, architects, and manufacturers who transformed patios, gardens, pool sides, and terraces into extensions of modern life. Additionally, it provides a cultural history of postwar America, a visual archive of indoor-outdoor modernism, a design reference, and a lifestyle narrative about the invention of modern leisure.

JEFFREY HEAD writes about art, architecture, and design. He is the author of Paul Evans: Designer & Sculptor; No Nails, No Lumber: The Bubble Houses of Wallace Neff; Regional Landscape Architecture: Northern California, Rooted in Resilience. He coauthored Architectural Pottery and curated the Stanford University library exhibition Herbert Matter.

DAN CHAVKIN studied at the Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California. An avid aficionado of all things modernist, he collects Midcentury Modern furniture, ceramics, and art. He coauthored the book Hand-in-Hand, about designers Evelyn and Jerome Ackerman; authored Unseen Midcentury Desert Modern; and co-authored his most recent book, Architectural Pottery.

TRESPASSERS

A Design Raid on the Most Exquisite Historic Homes in America

Kathryn O'Shea Evans

Trespassers allows you to slip past the velvet rope to go behind the curtains of 16 iconic homes that were once closed to the public. Included are all manner of architectural and design styles, including George Washington's Mount Vernon, Georgia O'Keeffe's Home and Studio, and Phillip Johnson's Glass House. Through these pages, insights from expert curators and today's leading designers—Charlotte Moss, Jamie Drake, and Ariel Okin among them—provide intel and decor takeaways that feel like design gospel. Each chapter also indulges in "if these walls could talk" moments and the sorts of living advice we can all use, such as cocktail recipes or shopping ideas to recreate such stylish living.

KATHRYN O'SHEA-EVANS is a Colorado-based journalist with a long-standing habit of walking through other people's houses and asking a lot of questions. She is the author of Horse Country, with a foreword by India Hicks; Merry & Chic: Your Most Dazzling Christmas Ever, and Alpine Style (all published by Gibbs Smith). Her work has appeared in The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and Architectural Digest. She has delightedly "trespassed"—with tickets—to dozens of storied houses across the globe, everywhere from Château de Chambord in Chambord, France, to the shotgun cabin in Tupelo, Mississippi, where Elvis Presley was born.

PRESERVED CITRUS

Recipes Using Lemons, Limes, Oranges, Tangerines & More

Beth A. Lee and Sarene Wallace • Photographs by Nicole Marriner

For both the home cook experienced in preserving and someone brand-new to preserved citrus, this cookbook has everything you need to learn about preserving lemons and other citrus fruit. It includes different methods for preserving and teaches how to use the fruit to brighten your dishes and add zest, flavor, and complexities to your meals. A detailed how-to section is followed by the bulk of the book, which is sweet and savory recipes for breakfasts, soups, salads, main dishes, snacks, and desserts using preserved citrus.

BETH A. LEE received a degree in business and pursued a marketing career in Silicon Valley. In 2010, Beth transitioned from computer chips to pita chips and launched her food blog, OMG! Yummy. Beth is an IACP award-winning food content creator, cooking teacher, and the author of The Essential Jewish Baking Cookbook.

SARENE WALLACE is an award-winning food journalist, editor, and public relations professional. She is the managing editor of Edible San Fernando Valley magazine and former owner-editor of Edible Ojai and Ventura County, where she covered a wide range of topics and developed recipes to accompany her articles.

NICOLE MARRINER is a food photographer with a passion for captivating and visually stunning images. She has taught cooking, worked as a food stylist, developed recipes, and managed restaurants.

COTTAGE GARDEN FLOWERS

Beautiful Varieties for Home and Garden

Naomi Slade • Photographs by Andrea Jones

With their billowing, layered look and low-pressure approach to design, cottage gardens often come together through thoughtful plant choices, water-wise practices, and a mix of traditional and whimsical design elements. More than 60 flower varieties are spotlighted, from archetypal David Austin roses to snapdragons, hollyhocks, love-in-a-mist, poppies, Echinacea, and cosmos. Each flower's history is explored alongside practical guidance. Andrea Jones's evocative photography captures the atmosphere and abundance of these plantings, making Cottage Garden Flowers an ideal gift for admirers of romantic garden styles, gardeners and florists at any level of experience, and collectors of the Beautiful Varieties for Home and Garden series.

NAOMI SLADE is a journalist, author, and designer specializing in gardening, environment, and lifestyle. She is the author of seven previous books in this series including Dahlias, Hydrangeas, Lilies, Lilacs, Ranunculus, Chrysanthemums, and Daffodils. She was recipient of the Garden Media Guild Practical Journalist of the Year Award in 2022. She lives in the UK. www.naomislade.com.

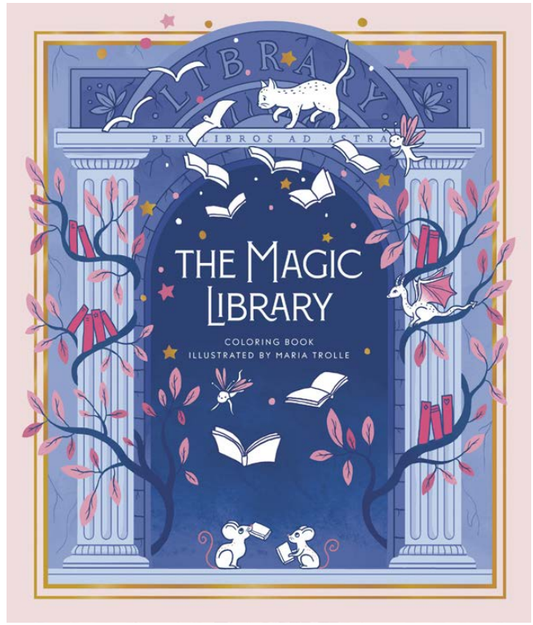

ANDREA JONES is now one of the world's foremost garden photographers. She has worked for almost thirty years, with assignments around the globe working on private commissions, books, magazines, and newspapers. Based in Scotland, Andrea exhibits her work internationally and in solo exhibitions in the US and the UK. www.andreajones.co.uk.

N IS FOR NATURE

Illustrated by Greg Paprocki

Greg Paprocki's newest ABC book invites toddlers into the outdoors to explore nature in various environments. Little ones can find acorns, butterflies, and ladybugs, they can spot a hedgehog or deer, and with their eyes to the sky, they can see clouds or a rainbow. Early learners can pretend to dip their toes into a pond or feel kelp or even image how a violet or zinnia might smell. This brightly colored board book is a fun way to introduce small children to the wonders of their world and to touch the proverbial grass. This delightful alphabet book features Paprocki's classically retro mid-century art style that's proven to be a hit with both young children and adults.

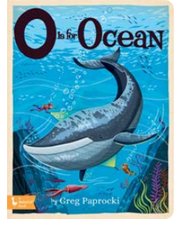

GREG PAPROCKI works full-time as an illustrator and book designer. He has illustrated several Curious George books, the Little Leonardo series, and the BabyLit alphabet board books including S Is for Santa, B Is for Bison, E Is for Easter, and C Is for Camping. Greg's Gibbs Smith titles have sold over 1 million copies. He lives in Omaha, Nebraska. Gregpaprocki.com

WHAT CAN A FLOWER BE?

Kier Holmes • Illustrated by Lee Foster-Wilson

In this lushly illustrated picture book, children will learn about different flowers and the insects, animals, and humans that rely on them. What Can a Flower Be? is a fun, playful approach with verse accompanied by science facts about numerous insects, plants, and animals. It shows how flowers work as part of a larger ecosystem and teaches kids many different functions for flowers, from food and shelter to heating and healing. Appealing to children and to teachers, parents, grandparents, and caregivers alike, this book offers information about the natural world in a fun and approachable way.

What Can a Flower Be is a Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection.

KIER HOLMES is the author of The Garden Refresh and Designing the Lush Dry Garden, as well as a contributing writer for Gardenista, Edible Marin & Wine Country, and Sonoma Magazine. She has also contributed to Martha Stewart, Sunset, Better Homes and Gardens, and Marin Magazine. A garden designer in Marin County, Kier teaches children and adults about nature and gardens.

LEE FOSTER-WILSON is an artist and illustrator living and working in Cornwall, UK. Her work is inspired by the rural, coastal landscape in which she lives. In addition to books, she illustrates puzzles, homewares, embroidery kits, books, stationery, and calendars. You can see her work at bonbiforest.com.

A BISON HAS A BANDANA

Illustrated by Marie Bollmann

Each animal arrives, one at a time, bringing something different that is related to camping.

What happens when a turtle has a tent? Or a skunk has a sleeping bag? Or a firefly has a flashlight, a crow has a cooler, and a snake has s'mores? It's a CAMPOUT!

This fun, brightly colored board book is a great way to introduce toddlers to various animals and camping equipment through sneaky letter alliterations and a little bit of silly.

MARIE BOLLMANN is a freelance illustrator and artist specializing in children's media. She was born in a quaint historical town called Münster in the West of Germany. There, she graduated with a bachelor's degree in design, majoring in illustration. Today she is based in Hamburg, a big city near the North Sea.

Illustrated by Margarida Esteves

The marine plants, animals, and fish in this bright, underwater-view board book are all unique in their own ways, but together, they form a community of neighbors helping each other with food, shelter, and even safety. Toddlers will meet clams, corals, fish, turtles, sea grasses, and even algae in this diverse ecosystem sometimes referred to as a "rainforest of the sea." Margarida Esteves' engaging layered artwork, along with the rhyming story, makes this Layered View board book the perfect introduction to the vibrant and complex world of a coral reef to the littlest of readers.

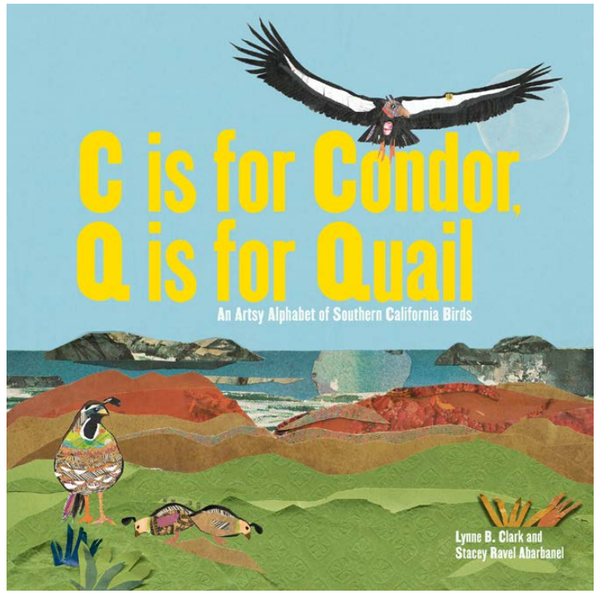

MARGARIDA ESTEVES is an illustrator based in South London. She works digitally and uses bold and bright colors, lots of details, and rich textures in her illustrations. Maps, landscapes, and ballet dancers are some of her favorite things to draw. People, stories, long walks, and vintage illustration inspire her—with history holding a special place in her heart!

C IS FOR CONDOR, Q IS FOR QUAIL

An Artsy Alphabet of Southern California Birds

Lynne B. Clark and Stacey Ravel Abarbanel

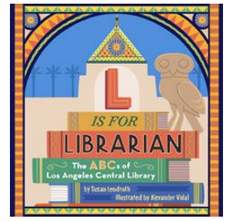

C is for Condor, Q is for Quail: An Artsy Alphabet of Southern California Birds takes readers on an alphabetical adventure, showcasing the wonderful winged wildlife that call California home. Each bird is showcased by a colorful, hand-made collage by artist Lynne B. Clark. From Avocet to the Zone-Tailed Hawk, this stunning book is sure to inspire naturalists and artists of all ages.

LYNNE B. CLARK is an artist, teacher, and maker who transforms found and repurposed materials into new creations across various media. Her work is featured in collections throughout North America. A Los Angeles native, she spends summers with her family on Lake Winnipeg, Manitoba, where she observes Pelicans, Purple Martins, Cormorants, and more than a few Canada Geese.

STACEY RAVEL ABARBANEL writes about art, culture, history, and architecture. Her work has appeared in Alta Journal, Friends of Residential Treasures: LA, UCLA Magazine, and Zócalo Public Square. She is the writer and producer of the documentary film UnRaveling (2021). At twilight she's often on her front porch in Santa Monica with her husband and their dog, watching hummingbirds.
